

---

TERRY BURNS, LITERARY AGENT

Montana gave birth to the 'Project'.
Can she figure out how to kill it?
Or will the rest of the world die?

---

Touched by Fire

Forces of nature wreak havoc around the world on a daily basis. Tsunamis in the Indian Ocean and Japan, massive earthquakes in China and Pakistan, a typhoon in Myanmar. This helped to spawn the old-timer's mantra, "The weather has never been the same since we went to the moon."

No one really pays attention to the weather.

No one but Montana Sinclair.

She poured her heart and most of her Air Force career into creating a Project for measuring the magnetism encompassing the Earth. She returns to that original duty assignment to find the Project she thought was decommissioned, now has a "Top Secret" classification, and the United States government has been using it to control weather around the globe.

But something has gone horribly awry.

Montana discovers that someone else has taken control of the Project, and is using it to wreak havoc on the United States, and the strain on global harmonics is causing the tectonic plates to shift.

Montana battles her inner demons, assassins, and catastrophic weather in a bid to save the planet before it is irreparably damaged.

Author

Bonnie Calhoun

I am a Bible Study teacher, Teen Sunday school teacher, and the Choir Director at my church. As a Google certified Blog*Star, I dispense advice for problem resolution on the Google/Blogger Help Boards for those using the Blogger platform.

As the Director of the Christian Fiction Blog Alliance, I organize 220+ member blogs that tour on the CFBA Blog to market the latest in Christian fiction.

I am also the Owner/Publisher of the Christian Fiction Online Magazine, a premiere ezine for readers and writers of Christian fiction featuring some of the best authors in the ECPA/CBA as columnists and feature writers.

I am the designated Northeast Zone Director for the American Christian Fiction Writers \(ACFW\).

I participate in the Greater Philadelphia Christian Writers Conference teaching workshops on blogging and Marketing, Publicity, and Promotion. I have plans to develop a brand "feel the beat?" where my readers will know that I deliver heart pounding action and adventure.

Come visit me at: Bonnie Writes, Bonnie's Writing Tips, How Can I Do That?